

PYRAMID OF DEVELOPMENT & LEARNING

The Developmental pyramid represents the order that problems should be approached. As in all pyramids the base needs to be stable and integrated before the top can be built. That is, Structural and Functional systems, need to be integrated and in good working order before one can develop and learn easily

With permission from Wally Johnston D.O (2010)